INDEPENDENT LABOUR PARTY.

CONGRESS AT HOME.

PARLIAMENTARY CAMPAIGN DISCUSSED.

LONDON, April 3.

Unusual interest centres in the Independent Labour Party congress owing to recent projects to increase the scope of the party's activities, which hitherto have been limited to political propaganda, by embarking on a parliamentary campaign including the putting forth of several hundred candidates. The Finance Secretary, however, pointed out the impossibility of the wholesale financing of candidates in view of the inadequacy of funds.

RUHR SITUATION DISCUSSED.

The congress lengthily debated the Ruhr situation and carried a resolution condemning the invasion and demanding the withdrawal of the British troops from the Rhine. The German named Crispian and a Frenchman named Longuet participated in the debate. The former opposed the withdrawal of British troops unless the others were withdrawn also. Longuet opined that Mr. Poincaré was only enabled to embark on an imperialist adventure owing to the disunion of the French Socialists over the communist question.

INTERNATIONAL CONGRESS.

Notwithstanding the extremists' persistence in advocating an approach towards the second international congress it was resolved by 265 votes to 52 to approve the Executive's policy, namely, promoting the so-called "two and a half" Vienna international.

ABOLITION OF CABINET SYSTEM.

An animated debate ensued on the subject of a motion in favour of the abolition of the cabinet system of government and the substitution of departmental committees whereof the Ministers should be Chairmen. The motion was finally referred to the administrative council.

UNREST IN INDIA.

"BOLSHIE" TALK IN BENGAL.

CALCUTTA, April 3.

The Bengal provincial conference of the provincial organisation of the National Congress at a meeting at Jessore resolved to appoint a committee to regulate the cultivation of jute in view of the fact that the present cultivation far exceeds India's requirements and the cultivator secures only a small return therefrom. It also decided that non-cooperators should try and disobey the law relating to the enhanced salt tax and ask the All-India Congress committee to empower Bengal to declare mass civil disobedience.

LORD CARNARVON'S CONDITION.

OTHER LUNG NOW AFFECTED.

CAIRO, April 3.

Lord Carnarvon is worse, second lung being now affected. His condition is causing renewed anxiety and four doctors are attending him.

AMERICAN COTTON WORKERS' WAGES.

NEW YORK, April 3.

The Fall River Cotton Manufacturers' Association has offered the employees a wage increase of 12½ per cent to be effective from April 24. Thirty-six thousand employees are affected. The New Bedford Cotton Manufacturers' Association has offered a similar increase.

SOVIET EXECUTE BISHOP.

WARSAW, April 3.

A message from Moscow states that Bishop Budkiewicz has been executed.

CHINESE SEAMEN STRIKE.

"DISPUTE ABOUT WAGES."

TWO RIVAL UNIONS.

A new Chinese crew of about fifty was requisitioned for the Blue Funnel steamer "Bellerophon" on Monday. When it was learned that the pay was to be $31, so the men alleged, they refused to sign the articles, demanding $36 per month, the amount claimed by them as the standard rate agreed to by the signatories to the agreement ending the seamen's strike last year.

An official of the Chinese Seamen's Union stated today that the disaffected crew were enlisted through the agency of a Chinese agent, who was paid $100 for each man. The agent was named "Bellerophon" and was alleged to have been paid only $100 for each man. The agent was named "Bellerophon" and was alleged to have been paid only $100 for each man.

and the agents were interviewed yesterday. No decision has been arrived at as yet but negotiations will be continued.

The official also stated that the ship succeeded in procuring another crew through the Union of Hongkong Licensed Boarding-house Keepers.

Most of the shipping firms obtain crews here by getting a contractor to procure the men. Usually the contractors are masters of seamen's boarding-houses in the Colony and these have formed a union, with ostensibly the same object as the Seamen's Union.

The official added that a number of Blue Funnel ships due to arrive in the near future will endeavour to ship crews at $31 per head, through the medium of the Boarding-house Keepers' Union.

men's Union, strove to secure employment with the firms direct while the Boarding-house Union wished "old custom" to continue as their income was mainly derived from acting as go-between for the firms and men. It was also stated that two boarding-houses, the Yau On and Kung On, who are committee members of their union have procured the new crew for the "Bellerophon," paying the difference of $5 in the wages out of their own pockets so as to get into the business previously enjoyed by Jack A Tai and others.

At the Marine Court this morning two Chinese were fined $45 each for making fast to a steamer in the harbour under way, and a set of $25 each were imposed on two Chinese for being found on the steamer "Tilliboe" without permission from the proper authorities.

THE DOLLAR.

To-day's closing rate 2/4 1/16.

To-day's opening rate 2/4 1/16.

INDUSTRIAL UNREST.

STRIKES AT HOME.

UGLY SPIRIT SHOWN.

LONDON, April 3.

Apart from the decision to re-open the Camperdown jute works at Dundee the strike which led to the lock-out of thirty thousand jute workers, the industrial situation has not improved. Builders and electrical workers continue to negotiate, hitherto with little progress on the contrary a determined spirit is manifested by the agricultural strikers in Norfolk who are coercing and assaulting voluntary workers and turning out horses and cattle. An uglier spirit characterises the Aberdeen fishermen's strike against German trawlers landing fish, unruly incidents in the last three days necessitating a police baton charge. Strikers three thousand strong dumped tons of German fish into the harbour and heavily stoned the foreign crews, compelling the trawlers to put out to sea.

A noteworthy development in the Welsh coal dispute is the mutinous decision of the Tredegar valley miners rejecting the Executive's recommendation to strike on the non-unionist question.

RUHR EPISODE.

THE SHOOTING AT KRUPPS.

ESSEN, April 3.

The Council of Krupp's workers carried a resolution protesting against the recent shooting which asserts that while the Council was endeavouring to calm the crowd the Commander of the French detachment alarmed at a jet of steam from a locomotive behind the garage gave the order to fire without warning.

GOVERNOR'S "PROFOUND ABHORRENCE."

ELBERFELD, April 3.

Herr Gruetzner, Governor of the Duesseldorf district, in the course of a strong protest sent to General Degoutte expresses "profound abhorrence at the fury of the soldiery under your command, especially the officers." He denies that the action of Krupp's workmen provoked the incident.

THE CASUALTY ROLL.

COLOGNE, April 3.

Eleven were killed and 60 were wounded, the latter including two French engineers and a journalist, during the shooting at Krupp's on March 31.

EMPLOYEES START STRIKE.

BERLIN, April 3.

Krupp's employees began a twenty-four-hour strike.

PRESS OFFICIAL'S ARREST.

BERLIN, April 3.

The French arrested Herr Zechlin, a German press official during a press conference. Herr Zechlin recently had charge of the press service at Essen, whence he departed suddenly to Berlin fearing arrest. The French denied that they intended to arrest Zechlin and thereafter he returned and was arrested.

GENERAL DEGOUTTE'S ULTIMATUM.

BERLIN, April 3.

General Degoutte's ultimatum threatening confiscation of the mines and the arrest of the owners unless the coal tax was paid by March 31 to which the magnates refused to accede has now been extended to April 15.

NEAR-EAST PARLEY.

Homes Without Stairs.

H. V. M. Emerson, A. R. I. B. A.,
writes on bungalows as laboursaving homes in the February
number of Good Housekeeping:—
The labour-saving properties of a bungalow should appeal to all women. The rooms, being all upon one floor, are more easily cleaned than those in a multi-storied house. Passages are reduced to a minimum, and the staircase is eliminated altogether.
In a two-storied house the amount of energy expended daily in going up and down the staircase is surprising, and if a record were taken of the number of stair journeys
made in the course of the year, it would be found that the height climbed would be greater than the height of Mount Everest.

Wireless Maids.

Wireless maids are the late things in Paris, according to the New York American. George
Franchette, president of the French Society for the Study of Wireless, has replaced servants in his home
by the Eiffel Tower. At 6 a.m. a wireless wave from the Tower sets off an alarm clock beside Franchette's bed, opens the windows and pulls back the shutters, and starts an electric stove heating his morning cup of chocolate, which is automatically controlled so that it never boils over. Official time is given him by wireless-controlled clocks in all rooms, doors are opened by buttons, the controlling force of which is waves from the Eiffel Tower,
and every evening Monsieur Franchette gets the day's news from a wireless receiver as he is seated at dinner. Next winter he says, he is going to heat his house by wireless.
London's Quietest Square.

Kensington Square, whose residents are alarmed at the prospect of some of its houses being converted into business premises, has always been one of the quietest squares in London (according to the Daily Chronicle). Built in the reign of James I., it was until 1851, when modern Kensington began to arise, almost surrounded by fields.
Even now it is so shut off from the busy world that the roar of traffic only sounds like the murmur of waves breaking on a distant beach.
Its famous residents have included
Addison, Steele, John Stuart Mill, J. R. Green, the historian, who wrote most of his books there, and Barnes Jones, the artist. A curious incident in the history of the square was the laying of a ghost there in the seventies by Bishop Wilberforce, who effectually dealt with the troubled spirit by the aid of the traditional bell, book, and candle.

South Africa's Long Sight.

"Will Londoners eventually become blind?" is a question that has puzzled me ever since I arrived here
three weeks ago (says a South African, writing in the London Evening News). In South Africa, especially up country, one scarcely ever comes across a spectacle wearer from one year's end to another. But Londoners are a very spectacled people. Perhaps the "healthiness" of the average South African's eyesight is due to the fact that his vision is not cramped every hour of the day by the nearness of buildings, which prevent the eyes from being used at long range. Ninety-nine per cent. of European city dwellers visiting Africa for the first time are amazed at the remarkable eyesight of the natives. I have seen a good pair of native eyes recognise a person,
once seen, at a distance of over a mile away. Acquaintances are frequently recognised at a distance of one and three-quarter miles away, and intimate friends or relatives at two miles distant. In Zululand the contrast is even more striking.
Here the air is so clear that the natives are able to pick out objects over seven miles away. And this by starlight—not daylight.

Coloured Handkerchiefs.

It is not difficult to discover the reason for women's preference for coloured handkerchiefs—it is simply that they are so very much easier to wash than the white linen variety (remarks the Pall Mall Gazette). The boiling and blueing required to give the latter a snowy appearance is avoided. It was predicted quite six months ago that the vogue for coloured handkerchiefs was dying out, but, in spite of this, they still fill the shop counters. Green, apricot, and orchid are among the most popular shades to-day, also tan and silver grey, the latter ornamented with bright coloured hemstitching.
Dainty trifles in chiffon are favourably for evening wear—and presumably are used by women with a sublime trust in Providence that they will not want to blow their noses! These are shaded in pastel colourings, or sometimes hand-painted or printed with a gay futurist design.

The Uses of Gliders.

One of the papers read at the recent Air Conference in London was by Colonel A. Ogilvie, bearing the title "Gliders and their Value to Aeronautical Progress." After giving a short account of the more recent experiments with gliders,
the author expressed the opinion that there was little likelihood of engineless aeroplanes ever being of practical utility in travelling from place to place or even of being employed to any extent for sport. Their real and immediate value, he said, was the opportunity they afforded of making technical experiments in a simple and inexpensive manner. For this work gliders had the advantage that the motive power used was gravity, and was thus perfectly definite in amount and always reliable. The two main technical problems in connection with the development of the commercial aeroplane at the present time were the increase of aerodynamic efficiency and the improvement of control at low flying speeds. The author thought there could be little doubt that substantial progress would be made in solving these and other problems in aerodynamics
by means of experimental work with gliders. Finally he appealed to business men and others to offer prizes for such work in order to stimulate competition and thus hasten progress.—Engineering.

A Novel Wrench.
Many of us have to be amateur mechanics in these days, when all means of transport are dependent upon mechanical power; consequently the interest in tools is widespread, and new devices to facilitate the keeping in order of car motors and kindred machines, are being brought out almost every day. For taking to pieces or adjusting machinery few tools are more useful than the adjustable wrench. In spite of the many patterns already obtainable, new designs continue to make their advent. Among these is a wrench resembling a pair of scissors, in that it has two parts crossing each other in the middle; there is, however, no pivot, and each end of both parts forms one jaw of the wrench. It is possible, therefore,

Take Care of Yourself.

If you want a clear head and good digestion you must not let your bowels become clogged with poisonous waste from the body, as is always the case when you become constipated. Proper food, an abundance of water and plenty of outdoor exercise should keep your bowels regular. When that fails you should take Chamberlain's Tablets. They cause a gentle movement of the bowels and are easy and pleasant to take. For sale by all Chemists and Storekeepers.

A Light Car for home leave.

Business and professional men and others about to proceed home on leave are offered unusual facilities for acquiring a Light Car. Autoveyors Ltd., London's leading Light Car Specialists, have made arrangements by which any car may be purchased on payment of a small deposit (from £37 10s.), the balance being paid by easy instalments. At the end of the leave period they will, if desired, take the car for re-sale on commission on specially advantageous terms. Many who availed themselves of these facilities last year have written most appreciative letters, from which the following are typical extracts:—

(1) "I thank you very much for your attention and courtesy. I shall have much pleasure in recommending your company to my friends as my route to India."

(2) "You were very helpful to me when I thought of selling the car, and you could have secured for me a very good price indeed."

(3) "Should I find any of my friends in Australia in need of a good reliable car, I will call on you and give them your name and address."

The possession of a good Light Car will increase the enjoyment of your leave, and the recent drastic price reductions bring it within the reach of most. Autoveyors Ltd. are Authorized Agents for the leading makes, and arrange all details with regard to taxation, licence, and day for catalogue and full particulars of special "leave" offer to:—

PLACE NAMES.

THAT SHARE SATANIC INFLUENCE.

However little he may be interested in demonology, no one can wander far from his own front-door without being struck with the number of places of interest which own the Devil as titular landlord (writes Clement Antrobus Harris in Chambers's Journal.) And the traveller will be singularly lacking in the spirit of inquiry who does not ask himself to what so recurrent a phenomenon is due. Is the cause to be found in profanity, or superstition, or what?

Among the forty or so instances known to the present writer, it is difficult to find any one common feature. But if, in place of the whole, we take groups, analysis becomes comparatively easy. Perhaps the widest generalisation is to be found in the element of danger. This is clearly the case in regard to the Devil's Current in the Bosphorus, for, though hardly perceptible when the wind blows from the south-west, it runs with great violence and rapidly when the wind comes from the opposite quarter. Our own country is not without instances, for the name Devil's Throat is applied by seamen to Cromer Bay, owing to its danger to navigation. On land we have "Devil's Elbow." Those known to me are both in Scotland. They each consist of a road descending a steep hill, and made zigzag at very sharp angles to moderate the declivity. One is between Brunmar and Spital of Glenheath, and the other near Selkirk. There is a third in the Mount Lofty Range, near Adelaide, South Australia; but this title, as Debreit would say, is probably a very recent "creation."

SIGNIFYING DANGER.

Danger, I take it, suggested the name Devil's Kettle being given to a hole in the cliff between Stonehaven and Dunottar Castle, in Kincardineshire. As regards shape, "funnel" would have been a more apt description; the opening is wide at the surface, nearly circular, and narrow towards the bottom, where an inverted neck opens into a rocky cavern into which the sea dashes. The sides near the top are smooth and covered with short grass, and any one who slipped thereon would have little chance of escaping a boiling in the "kettle." The Devil's Beef-tub, a curious depression in the surface of the ground near Moffat, is believed to derive its name from so many cattle having fallen into it.

Where a natural feature takes the form of something that is in the habit of making for himself, but is too vast to have been made by human agency, demonical workmanship is almost sure to be ascribed. Thus in the Pass of Glencoe there is a series of natural steps so extremely like a man-made staircase as to be an instance in point. And that the meat-tubs of the northern regions may be well filled, there is a Devil's Mill at Rumbling Bridge, near Dollar, in Scotland. Our ghostly enemy is generally cute enough to employ spiritual rather than mechanical weapons. Nevertheless three narrow monoliths embedded in the ground in a desolate four feet and rising the shortest sixteen and the longest twenty-two feet above it, near Dorroughbridge in Yorkshire, are not inappropriately called the Devil's Arrows, the tradition being that they were shot from the Bannockburn.

TAILORS SUE EUROPEAN.

Before Mr. Justice Gompertz at the Summary Court today Mr. W. H. Coole trading as J. T. Shaw, tailor, sued Mr. B. Pasco, manager of Messrs. Brewer & Co. for the sum of $125 for goods sold and delivered.

Plaintiff was represented by Mr. F. E. Nash and Mr. Noel L. Brewer appeared on behalf of defendant.

At the outset Mr. Nash stated that plaintiff purchased the business of the late J. T. Shaw and was now suing defendant for a debt which had arisen between defendant and the late Mr. Shaw as there had been previous dealings between Messrs. Brewer and Shaw and in the settlement of the latter's estate Mr. Pasco claimed that certain amounts which he himself owed to J. T. Shaw should be set off against that amount.

In the witness box Mr. Coole said that he was now proprietor of the business known as J. T. Shaw having purchased the business from the executors including the book debts and the debt owing by Mr. Pasco for $125 of which nothing had been paid. Since the assignment of the business he had written many times demanding payment of the debt but nothing was forthcoming.

The defence argued by Mr. Brewer was that the debt was not due and that it was incurred by J. T. Shaw & Co. at a date earlier than the transfer of the business and that plaintiff had had no written notice whatever of the written assignment. Another point he said was that the goods, a dinner jacket and the making up of a suit, were given by the executor of the late J. T. Shaw as consideration for certain premises. The goods were not intended as a sale at all. They were given to defendant by Mr. Higgins, the executor of Mr. J. T. Shaw, on consideration of defendant allowing Messrs. J. T. Shaw as tenants to enter certain premises in which Messrs. Brewer & Co. were then tenants. Mr. Brewer further added that a larger sum than that claimed was due from Messrs. J. T. Shaw & Co. to Mr. Pasco in his individual capacity. It had been agreed that Mr. Pasco should release Mr. Shaw from his debt to Brewer & Co.

In his evidence defendant said he had never had a written notice of the assignment by J. T. Shaw and such letters as he received after October 12, 1922 not signed by Mr. Coole.

When called to the witness box Mr. Higgins said he knew of no mutual agreement between defendant and the late Mr. Shaw where by the claim should be set off.

His Honour decided to reserve judgment.

HONGKONG ELECTRIC EMPLOYEES.

TROUBLE OVER TIME-BOOK.

Some of the hands employed by the Hongkong Electric Light Co. downed tools yesterday because the management insisted on the time-book being entered up when the men went out on a job and when they returned.

From what can be learned only a few men are affected and the trouble is described as "trivial." The recalcitrants, it appears, were told last evening that if they were not willing to comply with the company's regulations, they could remain away. The men, though few in number, appear to have taken the company at their word for they had not returned to work at 2.30 this afternoon.

Enquiries at the Chinese Engineers' Institute revealed the fact that about 400 men employed at the North Point workshop are involved. Delegates are to interview the Secretary for Chinese Affairs this afternoon.

HONGKONG'S HEALTH.

One case of plague nine cases of small-pox (one imported), two cases of diphtheria (one imported), one case of enteric fever, three cases of cerebro-spinal fever (one imported) and a case of puerperal fever were notified during the week ended March 31. All the cases were Chinese and the only ones which did not result in death were two of the diphtheria cases and one of the cases of cerebro-spinal fever.

During the previous 24 hours one case of plague (Chinese), three cases of small-pox (Chinese), two cases of diphtheria (Chinese), three cases of enteric fever (one British and two Chinese), one case of paratyphoid fever (British) and two cases of cerebro-spinal fever (Chinese) were reported.

PEAK LADY'S PENDANT.

WHERE IT GOT TO.

TRACED TO SAMPAN GIRL.

"Defendant gave the jewellery to his sweetheart to keep for him. Apparently, the girl, in turn, handed it to her mother, her mother gave it to another woman, who surrendered it to the police," said Detective Inspector J. Grant to Mr. R. E. Lindsell this morning, in describing the tracing of a platinum chain with a diamond pendant, valued at £150, reported as missing by Mrs. Clarice Williamson, No. 139 the Peak, on March 1.

Mrs. Williamson's former house coolie was charged with the theft of the article. In the witness-box, she said that she left the pendant in her trunk-box. Defendant had been in her employ for twelve months.

Inspector Grant told his Worship that defendant was particularly energetic in searching for the pendant after its loss had been discovered.

Addressing Mrs. Williamson, Inspector Grant asked: "Do you allow any relatives or sweethearts of the defendant to visit him in his quarters?" After his Worship had remarked that the question did not seem to have any bearing on the case, Inspector Grant made the statement regarding the subsequent custody of the pendant adding that defendant's sweetheart was a sampan-girl at Aberdeen.

The girl also gave evidence. Asked by Inspector Grant if she knew anything about an envelope, exhibited in court, which contained the pendant when first handed to her, she turned to the Magistrate and asked "What does the envelope contain, your Worship?" To this Mr. Lindsell replied that it contained an ornament. Witness went on to say that if such was the case, she might know something about it; it was given to her by the defendant about a week ago. She was on her boat at Aberdeen at the time.

After further evidence had been called, his Worship imposed a sentence of six months' hard labour.

INSPECTOR GARROD'S DEPARTURE.

PRESENTATION CEREMONIES.

OTHER OFFICERS GOING HOME.

Traffic Inspector H. Garrod leaves for home to-day by the s.s. "Dongola," on pension after twenty-five years' service with the Hongkong Police.

On Saturday, his colleagues presented him with a coffee-pot, a hot water-jug, a tea-cannister and a cake stand, all made of silver, as tokens of their esteem of one of the most popular and genial officers in the force. Mr. E. D. C. Wolfe, the C.S.P., made the presentation at the Central Station. In a speech, he eulogised Inspector Garrod's capabilities specially referring to his services in connection with the Fire Brigade, as drill instructor and as Traffic Inspector.

Old residents may recall that Inspector (at that time Sergeant) Garrod was instrumental in arresting the Chinese who attempted to assassinate the late Sir Henry May at the official landing on his return as Governor in July, 1912.

A "Smoker" concert was held by members of the United Services Lodge, with which Inspector Garrod has been prominently identified for a number of years, and a magnificent silver rosebowl, subscribed for by members, was presented to him.

Going on leave by the "Dongola" are two other members of the force, Sub-Inspector McNab Wilson of Kowloon City and Sergeant Wilson of the Water Police.

The China Mail also learns that Chief Detective Inspector W. Morrison is retiring on May 2 after twenty-eight years' service, during the last nine of which, he has occupied the position he now holds.

Men's approaching and putting, won by Mr. H. R. Buckland.

For burning 100 election addresses issued by Mr. A. MacCallum Scott, the unsuccessful Lloyd George Liberal candidate for Bridgeton, division of Glasgow, at the last general election, Daniel Cairns, a postman, was fined £5 or 30 days imprisonment at Glasgow.

CRICKET.

H.K.C.C. v. UNIVERSITY.

The following will represent the H.K.C.C. 1st XI in a league match v. the University on the Club ground on Saturday, at 2.15 p.m.:— E. J. R. Mitchell (Captain), L. J. Davies, H. E. Hollands, H. Owen Hughes, E. C. Lammers, W. W. Mackenzie, L. D. McNicol, D. E. Pent, G. H. Piercy, R. H. Wild and F. N. Young.

At the request of the University, the 2nd XI friendly fixture, has been cancelled.

As already mentioned in the last "Cricket Notes," the final placing of the 1st league depends upon the result of this match. If the Club win they share with the University the top of the table. Any other result will enable the University to win the league outright.

Mr. John Hassall, the poster artist, gave evidence at Bow-street for the defence of Joseph Weiner and Arthur Elliott, the defendants in the charge alleging that the Great Poster competition is a lottery. The case against Elliott was withdrawn.

Anti-Jewish students broke up a Vienna meeting at which Professor Hirschfeld, of Berlin, was lecturing by throwing stink bombs and driving out the audience with knives and revolvers. The disturbance is believed to have been instigated by Munich Royalists.

CHINA'S CHAOTIC FINANCE.

Peking, April 3.
It has been ascertained from reliable sources that the Government of China is demanding that the salt tax revenues, from the salt field at Shing-shien, be handed over to them as a loan for war purposes.

It is reported, again Chinese sources, that Lin En Yuan, Minister of Finance has informed the Foreign Legations that the Chinese Government proposes not to have drawings on domestic loans, or on other words, to suspend the amortization thereof for one year. It is understood that this plan, if carried out would mean that the Government would be able to raise about $2,500,000, which should be re-invested in bond holders.

It is stated that Lin En Yuan plans to use $1,000,000 thereof for the redemption of foreign obligations, and the payment of overdue interest on foreign loans. The remaining $1,500,000 to be used for administrative purposes.

These proposals led to many rumours in some of the vernacular newspapers, stating that the Government does not intend to pay interest on bonds; but this is given little credence, and hence today are quoted strong.
